Rent Control Debate Seen

Bulletin

Albany and other Alameda County landlords will receive an increase in rents up to 25 per cent under a plan recommended by the five Rent Advisory Boards of the County, it was announced today by S. Lenart Cedorborg, general chairman for the group of boards.

Cedorborg said that the plan, which had been adopted because of increased operating costs, would be put into effect on Monday, Oct. 2.

Under the plan, all landlords who have not had an increase since June 30, 1947, are assured an immediate rent increase up to 25 per cent. The hike does not apply to property owners who have had 15 per cent increases by virtue of leases with their tenants. Such property holders can make application for 10 per cent increases to bring them up to the new 25 per cent level.

The new plan, according to Cedorborg, in no way nullifies the tenant's right of objection. He may file an objection to the increase within 15 days if he can submit evidence to show that any of the statements made on the simplified form are not true.

Registration Re-Opens For Defense Plan

The Albany Disaster Council today announced plans to reopen registration of all adult citizens in a five-day recruitment period next week to speed the city mobilization program along.

Over 1200 residents filled out forms two weeks ago giving essential information which would be useful to the city in event of a major disaster—such as an earthquake or bombing.

A Council spokesman today estimated that with the continued support of the people, at least 30 days will be gained in putting the defense program on an active basis.

Registration will open Monday and continue through Friday, September 15 at the following stations:

Albany Fire Department, 801 San Pablo Ave., 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Recreation Center, 850 Masonic Ave., 7:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Vista School, 720 Jackson St., 7 to 9 p. m.
MacGregor School, 601 San Gabriel Ave., 7 to 9 p. m.
Marin School, 1400 Marin Ave., 7 to 9 p. m.

Cornell School, 919 Cornell Ave., 7 to 9 p. m.

Information being gathered will give the Council an accurate block survey of the needs of the people should an emergency arise, Mayor Charles F. Graeber said. Space is provided on the registration card for those wishing to offer their assistance in the program.

Mayor Graeber said the set-up will stress an organization established on a practical basis and built around a closely knit Fire and Police Auxiliary group.

Council Must Act Before December 31 For Extension

A casual mention by City Atty. Edward R. Plotner Monday night to Albany City Councilmen that Federal rent controls would expire on December 31 unless action is taken to extend it set off a brief impromptu display of verbal fireworks among councilmen which will probably be settled only after a public hearing.

Plotner said that the Federal Housing and Rent Act of 1950 automatically expired at the end of this year unless the Council passed a resolution extending it through June 30, 1951, as provided in a special clause of the Act.

"I say let the rent control expire and let's get back to normal," Councilman Jerome Blank said.

Blank said that he had expected the rent controversy to come up for some time—since Berkeley and other cities are now debating the issue—and that he was somewhat prepared to discuss it.

"The poor property owners are receiving 1942 rent levels and paying 1950 tax rates, while the tenants receive 1950 wage scales and pay 1942 rent," Blank said.

Blank pointed out in a report prepared by a real estate group that decontrols had worked satisfactorily in many areas, including Pasadena, Salt Lake City, Bremerton, Wash., and other cities.

Councilman John C. Longaker quickly replied that low income groups could not afford high rent. He said he did not favor lifting the control until both sides of the question were presented.

On a suggestion of Councilman Blank, the Council indicated that a public hearing on the issue would be called soon.

The City Attorney also informed the Council that if Proposition 1 is passed on the November ballot, it would remove all taxes on personal property and that the city would lose some $50,000 in revenue.

The Council agreed that the question could be discussed at the Thursday night public hearing on proposed ways of increasing the city revenue.

In other business, the Council instructed the City Attorney to draw up a contract with the Berkeley Humane Society to board Albany's homeless dogs—man's best friend.

Councilwoman Kathie Zahn: Mr. (John C.) Longaker, Berkeley has agreed to care for our dogs, but does the contract include cats—and skunks?

Councilman Longaker: This resolution is just for dogs. Cats will have to have their own resolution.

Councilman Raymond Cleary: Wasn't there an ordinance passed several years ago dealing with stray animals?

City Clerk Myrtle McLean: Yes, but I believe it was just for chickens and cows.

Mrs. Zahn: Gentlemen, shouldn't we have one to include cats and skunks?

Scene II.

(As the curtain rises we find the Council discussing an invitation from the Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce to ride in the Football Festival next Friday night.)

Mrs. Zahn: Mr. Mayor, do we all have to ride in a car together?

Mayor Frank Graeber: I don't suppose so. Why?

Mrs. Zahn: I was just wondering. We didn't in the Fourth of July Parade, you know.

Councilman Jerome Blank: We could ride three in one car and two in another.

Councilman Longaker: Do you mean the pros in one car and the cons in another?

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Odegard (parliamentarian) and daughter spent a week at Dos Polos visiting Mrs. Odegard's family.

Mrs. Frank Tamby, hospitality chairman, her son and daughter are home after spending the summer at Pinecrest in the Sierra-Nevadas.

Newlyweds Showered With Gaiety, Laughter And Kitchen Gadgets

Gaiety, laughter and dozens of kitchen gadgets were showered upon Rosalie Holton and Bill Huskins recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Porter, of 506 San Carlos, in a party honoring the young couple who were married Monday afternoon at the Little Chapel of the Flowers in Berkeley.

Each guest was supplied with pencil and paper and then instructed to write a recipe listing all the ingredients which would insure certain happiness in marriage.

Later in the evening while refreshments were being prepared, Bill and Rosalie read aloud the collection of recipes. Mrs. Kathleen Eitinger's "advice for happiness" was selected as the one worthy of the prize, a red and white beruffled kitchen apron.

Much hilarity was provoked by the solemn announcement that a television cameraman had photographed the wedding rehearsal and that the guests would be treated to a preview of the wedding. While everyone looked expectantly at the video set, Shari Porter appeared impersonating her version of what a well-dressed groom should wear. Miss Donna Verner officiated as the dignified member of the clergy. Kathy Porter, glamorous in a well draped sheet and window curtain veil, doubled for Miss Holton. And when "Bill" was asked to bestow upon "Rosalie" all his worldly goods, he reluctantly handed over his fate.

Bill is remembered as one of the top fute players in the Albany High School Band, graduating in 1948. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Huskins, of 616 Sonoma Ave., and is in his junior year at University of California.

The new Mrs. Huskins is a graduate of Heidelberg University in Ohio, and is presently employed as secretary of the First Presbyterian Church of San Leandro.

The Thracian Club of Berkeley High School is sponsoring a two-day rummage sale at 1722 San Pablo Ave. (Three blocks north of University Ave.) on Friday and Saturday, September 8 and 9. Hours will be from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Homemaking Today

By Esther Drell Day
P. G. and E. Home Economist, Oakland

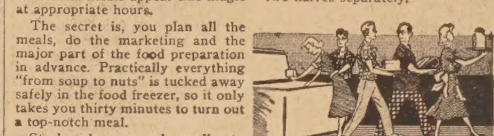

Week-end guests are a lot of fun even if they do sometimes mean a lot of extra work, too! When a homemaker with a food freezer, week-end guests can be "managed" like a charm. They may be a trifle mystified by the fact that their hostess doesn't appear to spend any time in the kitchen—yet the most wonderful meals appear like magic at appropriate hours.

The secret is, you plan all the meals, do the marketing and the major part of the food preparation in advance. Practically everything "from soup to nuts" is tucked away safely in the food freezer, so it only takes you thirty minutes to turn out a top-notch meal.

Steaks, chops or a ham slice to broil are packaged and ready to cook with or without thawing. Main dishes such as spaghetti with a meat sauce are all cooked, need only to be thawed and reheated.

Your own or commercially frozen vegetables are on hand and cook in a short time. French fries are even ready-cooked. Fresh rolls or other hot breads at every meal are easy—they can be either pre-baked or the Brown-'n-Serve variety.

Frozen fruit salads, ice cream and other desserts give that "extra-special" finishing touch to any meal. Here are two freezer desserts which are definitely in the glamour class, yet they're not expensive and they're easy to do.

FROZEN BANANA ICE CREAM PIE

1 1/2 cups finely crushed chocolate wafer cookies (about 15)
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
2 medium-size ripe bananas
1 1/2 pints vanilla ice cream
1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts

Set aside 2 tablespoons cookie crumbs; if desired, to sprinkle over top of pie. Mix remaining crumbs with sugar. Add melted butter, blend thoroughly. Press mixture evenly and firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Chill in freezer while preparing filling.

Cut bananas into 1-inch pieces and place in large bowl of electric mixer. Beat until bananas are mashed (starting slowly and increasing speed). Add ice cream and nuts. Beat until smooth and well blended. Mixture should not be melted, but should hold its shape. Pour in lined pie plate. Place in freezer until firm. Wrap plate in moisture-vapor-proof material, seal and return to freezer. Let stand at room temperature 15 to 20 minutes before serving.

Section 1. Every person who is hereafter elected or appointed to an office or position in the service of the City of Albany must, before entering upon the duties of his office or position, take and subscribe to the following oath:

I, _____, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and the State of California, and will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States of America and the State of California and the laws of the City of Albany against all enemies, foreign and domestic; I further swear (or affirm) that I do not advise, advocate, or teach, and have not since December 7, 1941, advised, advocated or taught the overthrow by force and violence or other unlawful means, of the Government of the United States of America or the State of California and that I am not now and have not, within said period, been or become a member of or affiliated with any group, society, association, organization or party which advises, advocates or teaches, or has, within said period, advised, advocated or taught, the overthrow by force, violence or other unlawful means of the Government of the United States of America, or the State of California, or the City of Albany.

Section 3. Every person who now holds or occupies an office or position in the service of the City of Albany must, within thirty (30) days after the effective date of this ordinance, or if he be on leave or under suspension for cause from the service of the city at such effective date, within thirty (30) days after

So Help Me God.

COLOR SYMPHONIES

Did you ever notice after tinting a blouse that the buttons had absorbed some of the dye? It's usually a lovely effect. They take on the same color as the blouse but the plastic, bone or glass — whichever they happen to be — gives the buttons a special glow all their own. I've seen this happen time and time again, yet never thought anything of it. But somewhere in the back of my head those dyed buttons left their mark and became the germ of an amazing discovery.

One night last week we went next door for a game of Canasta and one of the girls was painting a pair of eyeglasses with nail polish. What with trying to keep the polish off the lens and twisting to reach all sides of the frame, she was having the trouble of Job. In addition, no matter how she set them down to dry, there'd always be spots that stuck and smudged. It was quite a messy situation and the boys promptly rose to the occasion and started a harangue about the silly trivialities that occupy the feminine mind. Challenged for what other way they'd have done it, our critics offered no alternative except painting one side; let it dry and then do the other side. We had to let them win with that.

The next day I was tinting a nylon blouse and as usual the buttons absorbed some of the dye. Without any electric bolts out of the blue or any great fanfare for an inspiration, I casually thought about those plastic eyeglass frames and lazily wondered if they couldn't be tinted. I wasn't very enthusiastic and certainly didn't feel inspired, but into the dye bath I plunged my conservative specs and in ten minutes their ginger ale color became a glamorous pearly pink.

There's no magic to it. Just be sure to use all-purpose dye because it takes effect on synthetics like rayon and nylon, to which I'll add, plastic. You should also be careful not to have your water too hot. Lukewarm to warm is enough. Anything hotter might melt the frames. Don't worry about the lens becoming colored because for some reason the glass doesn't absorb the dye; only the plastic frames do. Isn't this an amazing discovery?

I have all my friends doing it and they're all quite tickled and pleased. It's a pretty and easy way to see the world through rose colored glasses.

By NANCY COOK—ANS Features

SIGNIFICANT FASHION NEWS is what is happening to the basic for home sewers. Pattern designers have deftly molded it the new silhouette, while fabric companies blaze forth with all fall colors like Metropolitan Red, Overland Grey, Coastal, and Suburban Rust, for youthful flattery.

Young homemakers know the only of a "go-everywhere" dress, but why not make it your own? The pattern pictured is simple to sew, but—if you want a home-sewn original to a custom made look—use a fabric that's easy to drape and drapes well. This dress, for example, is made up in all pure 100% virgin "Botany" Brand Certified fabric. It's pre-shrunk, sponged, certified by their laboratory specifically for home sew-

AS SCHOOLDIME ROLLS around young mothers are busy sewing, so here's some tips on young fashions to keep in mind.

In selecting styles and fabrics consider durability, wearability, and ease of handling for the child himself.

Choose sturdy, pre-shrunk, vat-dyed, washable fabrics, and patterns for strenuous activity with deep armholes and long crotches. Avoid constricting waistlines.

Of particular importance—in light of modern child raising principles—is to make sure your child can manipulate his own clothes. Zippers as side and fly front closings are highly recommended by child psychologists and educators as a means of contributing to future self-reliance.

Pictured are typical styles which combine all these factors. The girl's jumper features a Talon zippered side placket for smooth fit and ease of dressing. The boy's lumberjacket also has a Talon zipper, so he can put it on and close it hurriedly at school. His blue jeans have a zipper fly front closing.

Above dress of "Botany" Brand Baromette... all washed crepe. Made from "Simplicity" pattern No. 3287.

Girl's jumper (right) Simplicity pattern No. 5320 sizes 7-14.

Boy's lumberjacket and jeans, Butterick pattern No. 5402, sizes 4-12. All garments feature Talon zippers.
